Job Opportunity

Public Law / Pre-Law Director

The Department of Political Science at Elizabethtown College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position in Public Law, beginning fall 2010, rank open. Preparation in constitutional law, international or comparative law, and related fields is desirable, along with the ability to teach an introductory course in comparative politics, international relations or research methods. The successful candidate will also be appointed Pre-Law Director. The Director will be expected to advance a pre-law program grounded in the liberal arts, strengthen recruitment and advising of pre-law students so as to increase the number of graduates successfully pursuing legal studies, and develop educational programs for the larger community.

A Ph.D. in Political Science is expected at the time of appointment (J.D.s will be considered). Candidates should demonstrate strong teaching skills and the potential for research scholarship. The normal teaching load is three courses per semester. The salary is competitive.

Located in southeastern Pennsylvania, Elizabethtown College offers its 1,900 students more than 47 academic programs in the liberal arts, sciences and professional studies. Driven by its motto to "Educate for Service," Elizabethtown centers learning in strong relationships, links classroom instruction with experiential learning, emphasizes international and cross-cultural perspectives and nurtures the capacity for lives of purpose and leadership as global citizens.
