

FIRST YEAR STUDENT ADVISING SHEET

MAJOR: English – Literature Concentration

COURSES REQUIRED BY THE MAJOR

First Semester	Second Semester
Modern Language (see note 2)	One or two English Literature classes at the 200 level. (see note 3)
	Modern Language (see note 2)

NOTES:

1. Incoming first year students will be placed appropriately in either EN 100 or EN 150. Ideally they will take this course the first semester, but it is not necessary that they do so.
2. English majors need to complete the second course at the introductory level in a modern language (112), or one course if the modern-language placement is 200 level or higher. For ancient languages, the second course in a two-semester introductory sequence must be completed. Students should see one of the English professors listed below if they have any questions.
3. First-year students should take their initial English course at the 200 level; EN 200 and EN 240 are good choices to take second semester, schedule permitting. Advanced first-year students may take EN 220 or EN 230. EN 200 should be taken in the spring of either the first or second year.
4. EN 104, EN 101, and EN 180 cannot be counted toward the English major, although each does satisfy a requirement for Core, and EN 180 can count towards a Creative Writing minor.

Students interested in English Literature should contact Professor Kimberly Adams, Wenger 110, 361-1230, adamsk@etown.edu, or Prof. John Rohrkemper, Wenger 112, 361-1229, rohrkemj@etown.edu.
