First Year Student Academic Advising Handbook 2015-2016

Informing First Year Students for 89 Years Since 1926

During the academic year 1920-1921 two student groups were established at Elizabethtown College to “foster the spirit of helpfulness and to support such projects as will contribute to the common good.” These groups were called the Young Men’s Welfare Association and the Young Women’s Welfare Association. These groups evolved during the 1926-1927 academic year into membership with the national Young Men’s Christian Association and Young Women’s Christian Association.

Young Men’s Welfare Association standing in front of Rider Memorial Hall in 1920¹

¹ Rider Memorial Hall was built in 1906 and named for Joseph H. Rider a Church of the Brethren benefactor of the college. The first six students of the college lived in Rider’s home on East Washington Street where classes were held until Alpha Hall was completed. In 1968 Rider Hall housed the Music Department. The building stood next door to Alpha Hall for 82 years until it was razed in 1988.

From these student organizations the Student Council was created (later named the Student Senate). In 1926 these associations began publishing an academic advising handbook for first year students.

In 1945 the handbook was formally entitled the Rudder. Here is an excerpt from 1949 explaining the reason for the title:

“Congratulations on your choice of Elizabethtown! Before you spread new freedoms, new friendships, new customs, and new ideas, all a part of a vast sea of new events and experiences. You are the navigator of your life ship. Every good pilot knows they must have guiding instruments such as a compass or a map to direct their ship safely into port. As you adventure into college life, this handbook is your compass, THE RUDDER, to guide you over rough waters. Be well acquainted with the contents for this handbook will be a vital part of your voyage. The course lies before you. Good luck, and may there be smooth sailing.”

C. Frederick Horbach, History major, class of 1953 and president of the Student Senate designed a new cover for THE RUDDER which included the college mascot, the Blue Jay, sailing. Here is an old cover of the handbook:

Sometime in the late 1980s the First Year Student Advising Handbook lost its name. During the academic year 2013-2014 we gave the handbook back its name: THE RUDDER. We restored its name to remind us of the original theme and sentiment of the student senators in 1926 who sought to mentor and help new students. We hope it will serve you well as a navigation tool through your first year experience. “Good luck, and may there be smooth sailing.”

You have questions & we have answers:

Who is my academic advisor?

The professor of your First Year Seminar is your academic advisor. This member of our faculty will be your advisor for the first semester of your first year. Your academic advisor is listed in Jay Web.

When should I visit my academic advisor?

- Anytime you have questions or problems concerning your academic program.
- When you are experiencing academic difficulty.
- Whenever you have an issue which needs to be addressed curricular or co-curricular.
- During the first week of classes to schedule a consultation and if you wish to drop/add courses.
- At mid semester to discuss progress toward academic and personal goals.
- If you receive one or more Early Warnings between the 5th and 7th week.
- During registration weeks, between the 10th and 12th week, to schedule classes and have the advising hold removed from your account.
- After you have registered for classes to review and confirm your schedule for next semester.
- During the end of the semester to evaluate your progress.

What should I ask my academic advisor?

- What resources are available to help you succeed in college.
- Clarification about college policies curricular and co-curricular.
- How to set both academic and personal goals.
- Strategies on how to learn effectively.
- How to manage your time to achieve your academic and personal goals.
- Advice on how to develop a relationship with your professors.
- How to make connections among all the courses and academic disciplines you are taking this semester.
- Learning more about various majors and minors.
- Understanding various concentrations within majors.
- Developing a four year academic plan.
- When and where can you study abroad.
- Opportunities to collaborate with faculty in research, writing, presenting, publishing.
- Academic conferences you can attend on and off campus.
- What intern and extern opportunities exist within your field of study.
- Options for graduate school.
- Suggested Core courses which compliment your major and academic interest.

What is a plan of action?

You should leave your advisor's office with a plan of action on how to improve your academic performance and schedule follow-up meetings to measure success in reaching your goals. Academic Advising (717) 361-1415 or www.etown.edu/offices/advising.

The Academic Advising Relationship

Advisor Responsibilities

Student Responsibilities

The advisor is responsible to meet with their advisees during fall orientation to support them in their academic/educational transition to Elizabethtown College.	The student has the responsibility to meet with their first year advisor during fall orientation.
The first year advisor is prepared to meet with advisees within the first week to assist with schedule changes in the drop/add period.	The student has the responsibility to meet with the first year advisor within the first week after orientation to open communications and adjust schedules during the drop/add period.
The advisor assists students in identifying educational, career, and personal goals.	The student is an active participant in the advisor/advisee relationship. As such, the student communicates concerns, needs, and problems in an effort to keep the advisor apprised.
The advisor assists their advisees who receive one or more early warnings during the fifth week of classes to develop an academic plan to actualize goals and objectives.	If a student receives one or more early warnings, During the fifth week of classes, the student should consult with their advisor to assess goals and objectives.
The advisor encourages students to take an active role in their academic program and refers the students to regulations, programs, and graduation requirements.	The student is knowledgeable about college policies, procedures, and regulations as well as program and graduation requirements. Sources of information include the College Catalog, the Academic Advising Handbook and the major check sheets.
The advisor serves as a primary communication source for students providing current information about academic policies, procedures, regulations, and programs during registration, weeks ten through twelve.	The student schedules a pre-registration advising appointment with their first year advisor to discuss program development in relation to course selection, major/career goals, and scheduling of classes during the tenth and twelfth weeks.
The advisor maintains a current file on each student's progress toward major and degree requirements, commensurate with the student's goals and objectives.	The student has prepared in advance for the registration advising appointment, has obtained materials from the Registration and Records office in readiness for the advising session, knows course requirements for the major program, has thought about course selection and has developed a tentative outline of their class schedule.
The advisor has knowledge of college referral sources and services which may assist students in their educational, career, and/or personal development. When appropriate, the advisor may act as a referral agent.	The student understands the first year advisor is an informational source. When appropriate, the advisor may serve as a referral agent helping the student to obtain assistance in areas of concern.
The advisor is a listener, and facilitates students' growth in the areas of academic, career, and personal concerns.	The student has responsibility to maintain a personal advising file which includes program requirements, advising notes, and other information disseminated by the first year advisor.
The advisor confronts students openly and honestly on issues of integrity, academic honesty, behaviors, rights and responsibilities.	The student is familiar with, and committed to upholding, the Pledge of Integrity
The advisor has regular office hours posted.	The student knows the office hours and location of the first year advisor.

What is Academic Advising?

The office of Academic Advising is dedicated to the pursuit of academic excellence and welcomes all who share this passion. We assist students in the development of meaningful educational plans compatible with their life goals. Our services supplement and support the faculty advising system, the primary advising tool on campus. A holistic approach is used by addressing students' intellectual, emotional, and physical needs. We wish to inspire in students the value of hard work, fair play, develop confidence, consideration for others, and a sense of leadership and global citizenship. What students derive from four years of study at Elizabethtown College depends in large measure on careful planning. Academic Advising can help you:

- Explore academic interests and aspirations.
- Navigate through the curriculum and academic programs.
- Connect you with faculty who share your academic interests.
- Build your course schedules and register for classes.
- Choose a major, minor, or concentration within a major.
- Provide the necessary resources to help you succeed.

As part of the Center for Student Success, Academic Advising works in conjunction with Learning Services and the Office of Disability Services. Learning how to learn is of great importance. Center for Student Success (717) 361-1415 or www.etown.edu/offices/studentsuccess.

What is Jay Web?

Jay Web is the electronic system through which students can locate information, including course grade history, declare a major, register for classes, add/drop classes, and are notified about early warnings or holds on their account. Registration and Records (717) 361-1409 or www.etown.edu/offices/registration-records.

What are the requirements for a BA or BS degree?

Elizabethtown offers four types of undergraduate degrees, the Bachelor of Arts (BA), Bachelor of Science (BS), Bachelor of Music (BMU), and Bachelor of Social Work (BSW). Each degree requires a minimum of 125 credits, completion of all requirements for Core and for the Major, with a major and overall minimum grade point average (GPA) of 2.0. There are a few academic departments requiring a higher major GPA; please refer to the college catalog for specific major GPA requirements: <http://catalog.etown.edu>. The requirements for graduation are specifically set forth in the college catalog. Consult the online catalog and your academic advisor for detailed information. Registration and Records (717) 361-1409 or www.etown.edu/offices/registration-records.

How many credits do I need to graduate?

To earn a Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, or Bachelor of Music degree from Elizabethtown College, the student must earn a minimum of 125 credits. (MA 011 is not counted toward these credits.) Some programs may require more than this minimum to complete all program requirements. (See the program requirements for specific information.) No more than one bachelor's degree is ever awarded to an individual by Elizabethtown College; however, students may complete a second major, a minor or teacher certification subsequent to graduation. Registration and Records (717) 361-1409 or www.etown.edu/offices/registration-records.

What do I need to Graduate?

In order to graduate from Elizabethtown College, a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 on a 4.0 scale must be earned in both core and major courses, as well as the completion of 125 credits. Major or departmental requirements vary. Refer to the College Catalog for specifics. Registration and Records (717) 361-1409 or www.etown.edu/offices/registration-records.

What is good academic standing?

Any student with a GPA of 2.0 or higher is in good academic standing. Registration and Records (717) 361-1409 or www.etown.edu/offices/registration-records.

What is an Early Warning?

Faculty teaching 100-200—level courses are invited to report early warnings for students experiencing academic difficulty in courses after the fifth week of each semester. Students should log onto Jay Web, note in which courses they have early warnings, and contact their professors to discuss how to address the issues. You should also schedule an appointment to discuss your early warnings with your academic advisor. Your faculty should also contact every student for whom they have submitted an early warning and invite the student to discuss strategies for improvement. Your academic advisor should follow up on your academic progress and making appropriate referrals. Students with two or more early warnings will receive a follow-up communication from Academic Advising, requesting they contact the professional staff as well as First-Year advisors and others who could be of assistance. Academic Advising may also send a follow-up to the students' professors, asking them for additional information on how students have done since the early warning deadline. Professors' comments are compiled and distributed to First-Year advisors in time for the spring semester pre-registration advising period.

Key To Early Warnings:

1. Needs to submit required homework/class work/papers on time
 2. Needs to attend class on a regular basis
 3. Needs to consult instructor for help
 4. Needs to prepare for class and tests more effectively
 5. Needs to improve quiz and/or test scores
 6. Needs to improve writing and/or oral communication skills
 7. Needs to improve math skills
- D. Student's current grade is a "D"
- F. Student's current grade is an "F"

How do I find my grades?

In some classes grades are posted on an electronic system known as Canvas. All final grades for courses are posted on Jay Web. Registration and Records (717) 361-1409 or www.etown.edu/offices/registration-records.

What is a GPA?

Grade Point Average (GPA). A Cumulative Grade Point Average is a calculation of the average of all of a student's grades for all semesters and courses completed up to a given academic term. Registration and Records (717) 361-1409 or www.etown.edu/offices/registration-records.

How do I calculate my GPA?

Calculating Your Grade Point Average

Go to: etown.edu/css/academicadvising for GPA calculation online or follow the steps below:

1. List each course with the number of credits and the course grade:

Course	Credits	Grade
EC 101	4	B
BIO 111	4	B-
BIO 111L	0
SP 112	4	C
MA 251	4	A-

2. Multiply the number of credits in each course by the number of quality points corresponding with your letter grade:

Letter Grade = Quality Points (per semester hour of credit)

A	=	4.0	Note: W/P, Pass/No Pass, and Incomplete are not used when calculating quality points
A-	=	3.7
B+	=	3.3
B	=	3.0
B-	=	2.7
C+	=	2.3
C	=	2.0
C-	=	1.7
D+	=	1.3
D	=	1.0
D-	=	0.7
F, WF	=	0.0

Course	Credits	Grade	Quality Points	QPs
EC 101	4	B	3.0	4 x 3.0 = 12
BIO 111	4	B-	2.7	4 x 2.7 = 10.8
BIO 111L	0		0.0	0 x 0.0 = 0
SP 112	4	C	2.0	4 x 2.0 = 8.0
MA 251	4	A-	3.7	4 x 3.7 = 14.8

3. Add the credits and the quality points for every course in which a letter grade was received:

Course	Credits	QPs
EC 101	4	12
BIO 111	4	10.8
BIO 111L	0	0
SP 112	4	8.0
MA 251	4	14.8
TOTAL	16	45.6

4. Divide number of quality grade points by the number of credits for the semester:

Credits	=	16
QPs	=	45.6
Semester GPA =	45.6 / 16	= 2.85

What is a syllabus?

A syllabus is a document describing a course, stating the objectives, outline of how the course will be graded, listing the readings, providing contact information for the faculty, explaining assignments, and containing a schedule of readings, lectures, discussions, presentations, quizzes, tests, exams, essays, papers, and deadlines.

When is it due?

Once you have your course syllabus you can plan how to coordinate studying for classes, preparing for exams, researching, writing, and editing your papers. Mastering time management skills is going to be very important. Make an appointment with the professional staff in Learning Services to plot out a time management schedule for the semester. Learning Services (717) 361-1227 or www.etown.edu/offices/advising.

When are final exams?

The final exam schedule for every semester is posted on the website for Registration and Records. Registration and Records (717) 361-1409 or www.etown.edu/offices/registration-records.

How much time will I need?

We suggest using this formula:

There are 168 hours in a week:

16 hours = Attend classes

40 hours= Study, research, writing, editing

63 hours= Sleep and grooming

21 hours = Meals

28 hours = Exercise, athletics, work, service

When can I buy my text books?

During fall orientation your peer mentors will take you to the bookstore to purchase all books listed for each of your courses. You may obtain a list of required texts for each class and purchase books in advance of orientation. Contact the College Store (717) 361-1131 or www.etown.edu/programs/college-store.

Who can help with my research?

A librarian is assigned to each First Year Seminar. This librarian will facilitate library instruction sessions for the whole class and work with individual students by appointment throughout the semester. Contact the High Library (717) 361-1451 or www.etown.edu/library.

Do I have to go to the library?

From the college website you can access the library webpage to search for books, articles, and other resources. You can request materials online through inter library loan, renew books, request paper copies of items stored on microfilm or microfiche, and view items on reserve for classes. Paper copies of resources can be sent to you in campus mail. It is necessary to go to the library to check out books. Contact the High Library (717) 361-1451 or www.etown.edu/library.

Who can help with my writing?

The Writing Wing is located on the second floor of the Baugher Student Center in the Center for Student Success. You may request an appointment with our Faculty Writing Fellow or a Student Peer Writing Tutor. Also, always make an appointment to have your professor review your rough drafts and return for a consultation after the paper has been graded. The Writing Wing (717) 361-1185.

Where can I print my assignment?

There is a computer printing lab on the first floor of Nicarry Hall as well as computer labs on the second floor of Nicarry Hall, Hoover Center for Business, the High Library, and the second floor of the Brossman Commons.

Where are quiet places to study on campus?

Finding a quiet place to work is important, here are a few suggestions: the High Library, the Center for Student Success in the BSC, conference rooms in the Wenger Center.

Where can I get a tutor?

More than 200 peer tutors are registered to help with more than 200 courses. Tutors are students who have earned an A or A- in a course, who have been recommended by their professors, and who attend on-going training. A list of current tutors is available in Learning Services. Tutors are trained to help with course content as well as to share study strategies. Students may sign up for tutors in Learning Services in The Center for Student Success or call Learning Services: 361-1185 or www.etown.edu/learning.

What if I have a disability?

Elizabethtown College welcomes otherwise qualified students with disabilities to participate in all of its courses, programs, services and activities. If a student has a documented disability and requires accommodations to access course material, activities, or requirements, they must: (1) Contact the Director of Learning and Disability Services, Lynne Davies, in the Center for Student Success, BSC 228, by phone (361-1227) or e-mail daviesl@etown.edu. If their documentation meets the college's documentation guidelines, the student will be given a letter from Disability Services for each of their designated professors/advisors. (2) As early as possible in the semester, students should schedule an appointment to meet with their instructor. During this meeting, student and faculty/advisor will discuss the academic adjustments specified in the accommodations letter as they pertain to the specific class. Disability Services www.etown.edu/disability.

What is FERPA?

Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (commonly known as the Buckley Amendment) Federal Law precludes the disclosure of a student's educational records to individuals without express permission/request from the student (18 years of age or older). A more detailed description of FERPA and the limited exceptions to the "Release Only at Student Request" rule is contained in the College Catalog and A Family Guide to Academic Advising distributed to your parents during orientation in June. Registration and Records (717) 361-1409 or www.etown.edu/offices/registration-records

Am I a full time or part time student?

Twelve or more credits per semester are considered full time. Financial Aid stipulates students must carry at least twelve credits per semester to be eligible for monetary aid. To participate in intercollegiate athletic completions, the NCAA regulations follow the same guidelines. Fewer than twelve hours is considered part time. Registration and Records (717) 361-1409 or www.etown.edu/offices/registration-records.

Who is a first year student?

Any student who enters college with 29 or fewer credits. Transfer students entering the college with 24 or fewer credits are required to take a First Year Seminar.

What is First Year Seminar?

This is a class designed to introduce you to the academic expectations of college. This course prepares you for study, research, writing, experiential learning, and making the transition from high school to college.

Who are the Peer Mentors?

Your Peer Mentors will guide you through orientation. Elizabethtown College's peer mentor program is comprised of nearly 80 upperclassman students who have been extensively trained to help new students with the transition from high school to college life. Two peer mentors are assigned to work with each First Year seminar and with transfer students. As part of the First Year seminar, peer mentors, with faculty, organize and host social events for students throughout the first year experience.

Who are the Kinesis?

Kinesis is a group of upper-class students who are the leaders of the Momentum program. These students serve as peer academic advisors and mentors for Momentum students throughout the first year experience. Various social activities are planned to create a sense of community. Kinesis students offer support and resources for Momentum students helping them make the transition from high school to college. Kinesis students often live in the same residence halls with Momentum students offering assistance in the academic and campus life experience.

What is Momentum?

Momentum introduces students to the liberal arts curriculum and prepares them for their college experience. Exploring all academic disciplines students learn to navigate curricular requirements, while thinking critically. They find a balance between academic responsibilities and co-curricular involvement. Students consider their gifts, talents, strengths and what they can contribute to campus life. The curriculum has a global emphasis, academic sessions and student development workshops focus on multiculturalism. Momentum creates a forum where people of diverse backgrounds establish friendships lasting beyond the collegiate experience.

What are Stamps Scholars?

Each year, up to ten applicants with outstanding records in scholarship, leadership, service, and creativity are selected as finalists for the Stamps Leadership Scholarship provided by the Stamps Family Charitable Foundation. The Stamps Family Charitable Foundation partners with visionary colleges and universities to award multi-year scholarships enabling extraordinary educational experiences. The Stamps Leadership Scholarship Program recognizes and rewards exceptional students who exemplify leadership, perseverance, scholarship, service, overcoming obstacles and innovation.

What is the Honors program?

The Honors Program's mission is to provide enhanced learning opportunities for students who have excellent academic records, superior academic abilities, intellectual promise, and demonstrated initiative. The Honors Program promotes high standards of scholarship, leadership, and service among those students selected for the program. The Elizabethtown College Honors Program is a member of the National Collegiate Honors Council.

What is SCAD?

Scholarship and Creative Arts Day (SCAD), is an annual two-day conference celebrating the difference Elizabethtown College students make with their ideas and creativity. Each spring, select students present academic research in their discipline, showcase talents through recitals and a juried art exhibit. A notable keynote speaker rounds out this interdisciplinary event.

What is a global citizen?

Want to make your mark on the world? Want to put into action our motto "Educate for Service?" Want to act on what you learn? Make an appointment to meet Dr. David Kenley; Professor of History, Director for the Center of Global Understanding and Peacemaking in Nicarry Hall 121 (717) 361-1238 or kenleyd@etown.edu.

What is the Writers House?

The Bowers Writers House is the location for many literary cultural lectures, discussions, and events on campus. Located at 840 College Hill Lane along Cedar Street across from the traffic arch behind the library. Contact The Writers House (717) 361-689-3945 or www.etown.edu/centers/WritersHouse.

What is the Young Center for Anabaptist Studies?

The Galen S. Young Center for Anabaptist and Pietist studies is an internationally recognized research facility focusing on scholarship related to Elizabethtown College's religious denominational affiliation. The Young Center is the location for numerous lectures, discussions, exhibits, presentations, and cultural events. It is located next to Leffler Chapel and Lake Placida. (717) 361-1470 or www.etown.edu/centers/young-center.

What is the Core curriculum?

All students at Elizabethtown College are required to complete the Core program, which is a broad-based, interdisciplinary approach to general education. The overall framework of Core consists of 11 courses; the First Year Seminar, two courses in Power of Language (one in English, one in Modern or Ancient language) one course in each of the six Areas of Understanding (AU), and two courses in Natural and Physical Sciences for a total of 44 credits. One of these courses must be Guided Writing and Research (GWR). The Core intends to:

- Provide a sense of mission and purpose toward students' general education.
- Provide a foundation for successful study in the liberal arts and professions.
- Offer substantive knowledge as well as an awareness of the methods by which knowledge is acquired.
- Develop habits of the mind that foster continued intellectual growth.
- Facilitate the transition from high school to college by providing an educational experience that stresses development of independent, self-directed study and a passion for learning.
- Extend student horizons and broaden students' awareness of the world around them.
- Provide educational experiences that enhance and complement professional and academic disciplines.

What is an AU?

The rationale behind each AU is important for you to understand. Remember, Core is intended to give you a broad-based general education component toward your degree. Your Major classes are more narrowly focused and more specific.

- Power of Language (2 courses): 1) English Writing Course; write and speak logically, persuasively and creatively as well as read carefully and critically. 2) Modern or Ancient Language; continue previous language instruction or explore something new.
- Mathematics: Learn quantitative reasoning and mastery of problem solving skills.
- Creative Expression: Create or perform in an artistic medium.
- Western Cultural Heritage: Critically analyze significant human endeavors from the western cultural area.
- Non-Western Cultural Heritage: Critically analyze significant human endeavors in non-western cultural heritage.
- Natural and Physical Sciences (2 courses in different disciplines): Learn methods of scientific inquiry.
- Social Sciences: Analyze how human behavior is shaped.
- Humanities: Explore values in the decision-making process and consider implications of individual choice.

What is GWR?

Students are required to take at least one guided writing and research course. These courses provide practice and instruction in one or more of the approaches used in the process of representing knowledge in a discipline and to incorporate evaluation of student performance in research and writing. Students will take at least one GWR course after completing their First Year Seminar. English 100 or English 150 does not count as a GWR.

What are electives?

In addition to major requirements, all students can choose a number of “elective” course credits. Some students “elect” to use them to fulfill double major or minor requirements. Those students who come to Elizabethtown undeclared often use electives in deciding on a major. Many students use elective courses to pursue an interest, such as: art, music, literature, history, philosophy, or modern languages, outside of their core and major requirements. The number of permissible elective hours will depend on the student’s major. Academic advisors can help students choose these courses wisely.

How was I placed in my Math class?

Placement in mathematics is based on high school mathematics courses taken, high school mathematics grades, math SAT scores, and intended major. If your intended major requires MA 121 (Calculus I), your math placement will also depend on the results of a Calculus Readiness Test. You will be assigned a placement level, a recommended first mathematics course to take, and a recommended semester or year in which to take it. Contact the Chair of the Department of Mathematical and Computer Sciences (717) 361-1329.

How was I placed in my Modern or Ancient Language class?

Elizabethtown College requires all students to take one course (four academic credits) in a second language, which may be met by enrolling either in a modern or an ancient (classical) language. The Department of Modern Languages requires you complete the language requirement by the end of your sophomore year. The Department of Modern Languages offers 100 and 200 level courses in the following languages: French, German, Spanish and Japanese. Chinese is currently offered only at the 100 level. You may choose one of these modern languages to satisfy your requirement. As for ancient languages and other modern languages, Sanskrit and Biblical Hebrew is offered through the Religious Studies Department, and Latin through the English Department. Please consult the course catalog for details. No placement test is required for ancient language courses. If you wish to enroll in a language you have never studied before, you will automatically be placed in the first semester of the introductory course. If you wish to enroll in French, German or Spanish, and have taken it for more than one academic year in high school, then you must complete the appropriate on-line placement test. Also, if you wish to enroll in a level higher than the first semester of the introductory course, you must take the test. If you have questions about the test, please contact: French: Professor Vanessa Borilot at borilotv@etown.edu; German: Dr. Mark Harman at harmanm@etown.edu; Spanish: Dr. Kurt Barnada at barnadkm@etown.edu or Dr. Montserrat Linares-Farras at linaresm@etown.edu; Japanese: Mahua Bhattacharya at bhattacharm@etown.edu; Latin: Jennifer Besse at bessej@etown.edu.

What is the Language Placement Incentive Policy?

The incentive policy is for students enrolling in Fall 2015 or later: If a student places into a modern language course at the 211 level or higher and earns a B- or better, then he or she will receive credit for the previous course in the sequence. The course must be taken before the end of the student’s second year. This policy is not applicable to native speakers who were formally educated in the language through the high school level.

What is SLE?

Aristotle once said, "For the things we have to learn before we can do them, we learn by doing them." How can Elizabethtown students be better prepared for the "real world?" We have identified five signature learning experiences (SLE) for students. By graduation, all Elizabethtown students will complete at least two of the following Signature Learning experiences:

- Supervised Research
- Cross-cultural experience or exchange
- Internship, field experience, or practicum
- Community-based learning
- Capstone course, projects, or development portfolio

Definitions of SLE:

Supervised Research: Students engage in systematic investigation and use appropriate technologies or methods to actively study, with supervision, important or interesting questions in the field.

Cross-Cultural Experience or Exchange: Students can "explore cultures, life experiences, and worldviews different from their own," often by living and studying among a different culture abroad or in the U.S.

Internships, Field Placements, Practicums: Students get direct experience in a work setting, often related to their career interests, with benefit of coaching and supervision from professionals in the field.

Community-Based Learning: Students have an opportunity to apply what they are learning in the classroom to a real-world setting as well as reflect on their service experience.

Capstone Course, Project or Developmental Portfolio: Students complete a project or course that integrates and applies what they have learned. This could be a project, performance, exhibit, portfolio of "best work" or an integrative course.

How do I apply for an internship or externship?

First, see your academic advisor to discuss internships or externships in your intended major. Second, make an appointment to discuss options with Career Services, Baugher Student Center 201, (717) 361-1204. Third, contact Registration and Records if the internship or externship is for credit: Zug Hall 210 (717) 361-1409.

How can I do community service?

Check out the webpage for the Center for Community and Civic Engagement or contact Matthew Ascah, Director of Community & Civic Engagement (717) 361-1108 or ascahm@etown.edu.

How can I study abroad?

Make an appointment to meet with the Sabina Post; Director of Study Abroad, posts@etown.edu (717) 361-1347 Brossman Commons Room No. 247.

What if I am an athlete?

Always inform your faculty if playing in a competition will cause you to miss a class.

Key Points:

➤ A student should never miss a class to attend a practice.

- In the Non-traditional season (ie. Fall baseball, spring soccer etc), students should not miss class except for Tennis and Golf, as it is impermissible for student athletes to miss class due to athletics.
- Non-traditional dates will vary from coach to coach. Each coach has a certain number of weeks and dates to use, and the window is basically the whole semester (fall for spring sports and spring for fall sports).
- Teams qualifying for NCAA Playoff competition may be in season longer than the dates described below. This will depend on team and individual success.
- There are some exceptions regarding playing seasons for Tennis, Golf and Track & Field. Please see the section for their dates and differences.

Fall Sports:

- Men's Soccer, Women's Soccer, Volleyball, Field Hockey and Men's and Women's Cross Country
- Traditional Season (the normal competition season): Start the Monday of the week before the first day of classes (August 24, 2015 for the next academic year). The season runs through the first week of November with the conclusions of Conference Playoffs.
- Non Traditional Season (Out of season practice time in Spring): Typically runs from the middle of March until the middle of April.

Winter Sports:

- Men's Basketball, Women's Basketball, Wrestling
- Traditional Season: Start dates are usually the second week of October and the season runs through Conference Playoffs during the last week of February.
- Non Traditional Season: N/A
- Men's and Women's Swimming
- Traditional Season: Usually starts the Monday of the last week in September and runs through the second week in February.
- Non-Traditional Season: N/A

Spring Sports:

- Baseball, Softball, Men's and Women's Lacrosse
- Traditional Season: Usually starts the Monday of the week of February 1st and runs through the first week of May.
- Non Traditional Season: Usually from early September to the middle of October.

Exceptions:

- Indoor/Outdoor Track:
 - Traditional Season: Starts approx. the Monday of the week of November 1st and runs straight through the entire Spring semester to the first week in May.
 - Non Traditional Season: N/A
- Men's & Women's Tennis
 - Traditional Season: Start the Monday of the week of February 1st and runs through the first week of May.
 - Non Traditional Season: Starts the middle of September and runs through the middle of October.
- Landmark Conference Individual Champs: Tennis teams play their individual tennis championships in the Fall, and there may be a day that athletes miss class for that event.

Golf:

- Traditional Season: Starts approx. the first week of March and runs to first week of May
- Non Traditional Season: Starts approx. September 1st and runs through the second week of October.
- Competition: Golf teams compete in both the fall and spring seasons and therefore, may miss some class time during their "Non Traditional Seasons."

What is the Induction Ceremony?

A memorable event in the fall, this candlelight ceremony and procession is part of the new student orientation program. The ceremony takes place on the Sunday of fall orientation at 8PM in the Dell and serves as the beginning “book end” for their college experience here at Elizabethtown College. The other bookend is commencement. At the induction ceremony, the President welcomes students along with the president of Student Senate. There is a pinning ceremony where students receive an Elizabethtown College pin. As part of the induction ceremony, students are also asked to sign a book, which indicates they will uphold the Pledge of Integrity. There is also a candle-lighting ceremony where students symbolically light a candle to represent the “Lamp of Learning” which is part of the College’s Seal.

What is the Pledge of Integrity?

To establish an academic community based on honesty and trust, students sign and uphold the Pledge of Integrity: “Elizabethtown College is a community engaged in a living and learning experience, the foundation of which is mutual trust and respect. Therefore, we will strive to behave toward one another with civility and with respect for the rights of others, and we promise to represent as our work only that which is indeed our own, refraining from all forms of lying, plagiarizing, and cheating.”

Why are we going to Convocation?

Convocation is the annual official opening ceremony for the academic year recognizing first-year students, student college/emerging scholars, and faculty who are serving their first year as tenured faculty and/or are being promoted. It is a time for the president of the college to formally open the academic year as we embark on our journey of higher education.

When do I declare my major?

During the first week in January all First-Year students may elect to declare their major or may choose to be listed as undecided/undeclared as part of the electronic check-in process via Jay Web. The following message will be shown on the “check grades screen.” “Please note: In January, when completing your electronic preliminary check-in, you will have the opportunity to declare your major.” After their initial declaration, if a student decides to change their major before the first day of classes, they may do so electronically. First-Year students will receive an email from Academic Advising notifying them they have been assigned a new advisor along with Jay Web instructions. Registration and Records (717) 361-1409 or www.etown.edu/offices/registration-records.

How do I change my major?

First year students cannot change their major until the start of their second semester at which time they will formally declare a major. First, make an appointment to discuss the change with your academic advisor. Second, stop by the Center for Student Success in BSC 216 to complete a major change form. Center for Student Success (717) 361-1415 or www.etown.edu/offices/studentsuccess.

How do I add a minor?

First, make an appointment with your academic advisor to discuss adding a minor. Second, stop by the Center for Student Success in BSC 216 to complete add/change minor form. Center for Student Success (717) 361-1415 or www.etown.edu/offices/studentsuccess.

What if I am undecided about a major?

Your First Year Seminar instructor will remain your faculty advisor until you choose a major. Undecided (or undeclared) students will remain with their first year advisor until the end of the second semester. At the beginning of the third semester, you will be assigned an advisor from the office of Academic Advising and they will remain your advisor until you declare a major. Center for Student Success (717) 361-1415 or www.etown.edu/offices/studentsuccess.

What if I have a pre-professional major?

If you are interested in professional programs such as International Business, Occupational Therapy, Music Therapy, Allied Health, Social Work, or Education you need to see a pre-professional advisor in addition to your assigned first year advisor. If you are interested in declaring education as your major, you will need to contact the Education Department during your first semester. They will assign you an advisor who specializes in teacher certification, in addition to your first year advisor.

Students boating on Lake Placida in the 1920s²

² East of campus land with a stream was purchased to build a lake. On 1 April 1925 Lake Placida was completed. Eli Engle class of 1927 won the competition naming it. Placida means peace and is consistent with the values of the Historic Peace Churches which founded Elizabethtown College. Presently the college hosts the Center for Global Understanding and Peacemaking and offers a Peace and Conflict Studies minor. In keeping with the values of the Church of the Brethren and Historic Peace Churches concerning peacemaking, nonviolence, and conscientious objection to war; the Elizabethtown College Alumni Peace Fellowship presently hosts two-three day residency programs on campus featuring prominent peace writers, scholars, and activists. This group sponsors The Paul M. Grubb, Jr. Student Peace Award.

You have questions for us & we have questions for you:

First-Year:

Who am I?

How do I relate to others?

How do I relate to others who are different than anyone I have ever encountered before?

What do I want to make of my college experience?

Sophomore Year:

What really matters and why?

What things in life and work are worthy of my time, talents, and energy?

Why am I choosing what I am choosing in terms of my major, and my involvement beyond my coursework?

How have I grown in the past year?

Junior Year:

How do I connect to my community, my nation, the world?

What does it mean to live and work in a local and global world?

What challenges did I encounter and how did I meet them?

Senior Year:

What can I anticipate from life and work?

What can I contribute to my community, my nation, the world through my life and work?

What and how will I continue learning after college?

How have I grown?

Think

As you progress in your journey through Elizabethtown College, ask yourself these questions. Discuss your answers with your academic advisor, faculty, professional staff, administrators, and other students. Invite a dialogue in which you have the opportunity to express, justify, and discuss individual goals and ideas. Work with the faculty, staff, and administration in guiding you toward becoming a liberally educated, critical thinking, responsible citizen. We challenge you to make connections between the various courses you are taking. Consider comparing and contrasting how different academic disciplines relate to each other. Apply an interdisciplinary approach to your studies and cultivate a passion for lifelong learning following your curiosities. How will you act on what you learn? Contemplate how your college education will empower you to empower others, serve others, and make your mark on the world and thus achieving our motto: "Educate for Service."
