

FIRST YEAR STUDENT ADVISING SHEET

MAJOR: Psychology

COURSES REQUIRED BY THE MAJOR

First Semester

- PSY 105 – General Psychology (see note 1, 2)

Second Semester

- PSY 111 (see note 3)
- Students may take a 200-level content course (see note 4)

NOTES:

1. PSY 105 is a pre-requisite to all other psychology courses. We prefer that it be taken in the Fall, but it could also be taken in the Spring semester of the first year.
2. An Honors version of PSY 105 will be taught during fall 2015. Incoming Honors students who are intended Psychology majors should have first priority for any remaining seats in this course.
3. PSY 111 is a required course, but is not a prerequisite to other Psychology courses. It may be taken at any point over the four years.
4. The major requires three 200-level content courses (2 of PSY 221, 226, 227, or 235; 1 of PSY 241 or 251). The major also requires PSY 213 and PSY 218, which students should schedule for their second year.

Students interested in a Psychology major should contact Dr. Jean Pretz, Department Chair, Esbenshade Hall 260F, extension 1267 or any one of the other psychology faculty. There is also information about the psychology department on the Internet at <http://www.etown.edu/depts/psychology/>.
