

FIRST YEAR STUDENT ADVISING SHEET

MAJOR:     Psychology

COURSES REQUIRED BY THE MAJOR

First Semester

- PSY 105 – General Psychology (see note1)

- Biology or PSY 111 and/or Philosophy

Second Semester

- A student could take a 200 level content course (see note 2)

NOTES:

1. PSY 105 is a pre-requisite to all other psychology courses. It can be taken Fall or Spring semester of the first year.

2. The major requires two 200-level content courses (PSY 221, or 225, or 235; and PSY 241 or 251). The major also requires PSY 213 and PSY 218, which students should schedule for their second year.

3. Psychology majors are required to take a biology course or PSY 111 and a philosophy course. They may be selected from any Biology (BIO) or Philosophy (PH) Core or Non-Core course.

Students interested in a Psychology major should contact Dr. T. Evan Smith, Department Chair, Esbenshade Hall 260B, extension 1320 or any one of the other psychology faculty. There is also information about the psychology department on the Internet at www.etown.edu/~psych/.
