

The Michael J. Lorelli '88 Internship & Student-Faculty Research Fund Application

The Michael J. Lorelli '88 Internship and Student-Faculty Research Fund will support qualified students through either an internship and/or a student-faculty opportunity that will include collaborating and conducting research with faculty members at Elizabethtown College. The Lorelli Fund will provide students with high impact internship/student research experiences that will create pathways and opportunities for real world learning. The fund consists of $1600 to be awarded to one or more business students as deemed appropriate.

The Lorelli Fund is intended to assist students with financial support covering travel and living expenses while they pursue an experience that supplements their academic work and helps them further their future career goals.

**The Lorelli scholarship is available only to those students enrolled in one of the eight majors offered in Elizabethtown College's School of Business.*

**Please note: the Lorelli funds cannot be used to offset semester-long study abroad academic programs through the College.

Applications will be accepted through April 5, 2024.
