

VOICES of CONSCIENCE: Peace Witness in the Great War

Voices of Conscience, a national touring exhibition from Bethel College's Kauffman Museum, remembers the witness of peace-minded people against the First World War, 1914-1918. This witness included men and women, religious believers and secular humanitarians, political protesters and sectarian separatists.

Exhibition: Voices of Conscience: Peace Witness in the Great War April 13 - June 20, 2018

Visit the High Library to view this exhibition which explores the experiences of conscientious objectors during World War I. Voices of Conscience lifts up the prophetic insights and the personal courage of WWI peace protesters and suggests parallels to the culture of war and violence in our world today.

The exhibition is free and open to the public all hours the High Library is open.

This exhibition is sponsored by the Center for Global Understanding and Peacemaking, the High Library, the Office of Alumni Relations, the Office of the President, and the Young Center for Anabaptist and Pietist Studies.
