

WORLD WAR I AND AMERICA

1917 ★ WWIAMERICA.ORG ★ 2017

Join with Elizabethtown faculty, staff and students in a year-long reflection on the centennial of World War I and the United States' role in that seminal conflict. Upcoming events include:

October 24, 2017, 7:00 pm
Dr. Douglas Bomberger, "American Music and the First World War" (High Library)

November 13, 2017, 7:00 pm
Dr. David Kenley, "World War I: The View from the East" (High Library)

February 14, 2018, 11:00 am
WWI and America Exhibition
Celebration with guest lecture by Dr. Chelsea Schields (High Library)

February 21, 2018, 7:00 pm
Dr. Brian Newsome leads a panel discussion featuring veterans and conscientious objectors (Gibble Auditorium)

February 2018
WWI and America
National traveling exhibition (High Library)

January—February 2018
An exhibition including selections from the college archives highlighting student, faculty, and community attitudes toward and participation in the war (High Library).

Sponsored by the High Library and the Center for Global Understanding and Peacemaking. This programming is part of World War I and America, a two-year national initiative of the Library of America presented in partnership with The Gilder Lehrman Institute of American History, the National World War I Museum and Memorial, and other organizations, with generous support from The National Endowment for the Humanities.