

INSTITUTIONAL EFFECTIVENESS

Institutional effectiveness (IE) is the degree to which an institution achieves its stated mission. The process of institutional effectiveness includes systematic and ongoing review of evidence to evaluate progress and inform decisions. Evidence is collected and reviewed in order to improve operations and outcomes; it is not collected as an end in itself. Reports on IE seek to demonstrate that all units (departments, offices, programs, centers) of the institution, individually and collectively, are having their intended effect. In addition, an effective institution aligns its resources (human and fiscal) with its mission and outcomes assessment findings.

Elizabethtown College has implemented an institutional effectiveness process to systematically identify unit goals and track progress towards achieving these goals. Administrative Effectiveness Plans begin with a mission statement that articulates the overarching purpose of the unit. From these mission statements, each unit has identified 4-6 goals that represent the major functions or expectations of the administrative unit. At the next level, each goal has 2-6 unit performance standards (UPS) of effective practice. These UPS demonstrate how the unit achieves its goals. For some units, UPS may reflect industry standards or principles of best practice from regional or national organizations. Annual Assessment Targets provide a means to measure progress on goals and help answer the question of whether we have been effective in meeting performance standards.

As part of the 2016-17 Institutional Effectiveness reporting process, each department was asked to affirm their mission and goals. The academic administration was restructured at the beginning of the 2016-17 year, so several units within academic affairs have revised their mission and goals, as indicated at the end of this summary document.

Reports were received from 34 of the 41 units. Several units experienced a change in leadership or organization structure during this past year and were not in a position to submit an annual report during this transition.

All reporting units contributed to the effectiveness of Elizabethtown College in meaningful ways. Assessments were varied and included:

- Growth in participation at Homecoming and Family Weekend with a record 1190 attendees;
- 80% retention rate of the 2016 Intensive Advising cohort;
- 38% of the 2016-17 enrolled class are athletes – exceeding the department’s stated enrollment goal;
- Door Access Control Project is complete ensuring that all building entrances are monitored helping to ensure the safety of students and employees;
- Resident Assistants attended Escalation workshop learning about intimate partner violence;
- Facilities staff arranged for 1342 events on campus in the past academic year, compared to 636 10 years ago.

This report highlights several examples of 2016-17 outcomes from particular units, organized in four categories drawn from the 2012-2017 Strategic Plan: 1) National Recognition; 2) Real World Learning; 3) Stewardship of Resources; and 4) Ongoing Operational Effectiveness. As this year also marks the completion of the 2012-17 strategic plan, the goals of some units shifted focus to align with initial plans for the 2017-20 strategic plan.
