Everyone planning to live on campus must register through the new JayWeb system in order to receive their lottery number and proxy code. Residence Hall selection will take place through this system as well.

How to register (please refer to instructional email if needed):
1. Students must be registered for their lottery number and proxy code before beginning the housing selection process. This is a new process.
2. You will be signing into the new JayWeb system using your ID number and PIN number (the same information used for ECWeb).
3. Click the “Student” tab at the top of the screen, then click on the “Housing Selection” link on the left-hand side if the Housing screen does not show automatically.
4. You will click through to register, then your lottery number and proxy code will appear on the next screen.
5. At this time, you will be able to enter your roommate’s information OR you will be able to request a roommate.

NOTE: You will be able to view availability of rooms before your selection time to plan accordingly, but you must wait until your given time slot to select your room.
Students select campus housing for the upcoming school year through a housing lottery system:

- The lottery is based on entrance year to the college and academic seniority at Elizabethtown College. The more credits you have, the more options you will have available to you.
- The lottery numbers are randomly assigned by a computer based on number of credits within each class.

Class Standing:
- Freshman: 0-29.9 Credits
- Sophomore: 30-59.9 Credits
- Junior: 60-89.9 Credits
- Senior: 90+ Credits

- Lottery numbers will NOT be emailed to you as in the past. Students will need to register through JayWeb in order to receive a lottery number, proxy code, and time slot.
SELECTING HOUSING

Instructions:
1. To select housing, you will first need to pick a roommate. Click “Select Roommate” to enter your roommate’s lottery number and proxy code (This is a specific 3-letter code that represents each individual student. DO NOT give anyone your ID number or PIN number!).
2. OR you can click “REQUEST Roommate” to inform Residence Life that you are looking for a new roommate.
3. You and your roommate each should have received a time slot to register. You will be selecting housing during the “better” (earliest) time.
4. At that time, sign back into JayWeb and click “View All Rooms” to see available rooms. Then, simply click on the desired room to select it.

IMPORTANT TIME NOTICE!

What are Living Learning Communities?

Want to live on a floor with fellow students of similar majors or interest? Then one of the 2011-2012 themed LLCs may be the place for you! Living Learning Communities, or LLCs as they are often called, are exciting housing opportunities that combine a common related course or theme with a residential learning experience. Students living in LLCs share a residential space which affords them the opportunity to interact with faculty in residential and classroom settings. The goals of these communities are to provide increased faculty-student interaction, shared curricular and co-curricular opportunities, and a sense of community in a residential environment.

You will have a space in which you can discuss class outside the classroom, watch films, play games, or hold impromptu or planned discussions on class topics. Some halls offer hall common areas; all have lounges that can be used as classroom spaces. LLC residents are often able to attend special community related events or field trips to such places as local and regional museums, musicals, tea houses, camping, and lectures.
