ELIZABETH TOWN COLLEGE PRESENTS
FANTABULOUS FRIDAYS:

You are invited to the main lounge of Myer Residence Hall for tea, coffee and occasionally a light supper. Faculty, professional staff and administrators discuss their academic interests, research, writing and creative expression within the liberal arts disciplines. All are welcome to attend.

Fall

September 7:
“Philosophy: Why it Liberates the Soul, Sharpens The Mind and is Good for Your Wallet. Seriously.”
Michael Silberstein, Professor of Philosophy

September 21:
“Free Speech and Student Rights - A 50-Year Battle for The Soul of The University.”
April Kelly-Woessner, Associate Professor of Political Science

October 5:
“What We Have Learned from Facebook! The Development of Collaborative Technologies to Study Human Action in Planning and Analysis.”
Kevin Shorner-Johnson, Assistant Professor of Music Education

Winter

January 18:
“Desperate Housewives? A Case Study in A French Subdivision.”
Brian Newsome, Associate Professor of History

February 8:
“Those Swinging ’60s: Sex and Birth Control in The Time of Nero?”
Jennifer Besse, Career Services Information and Recruitment Coordinator, Adjunct Instructor of Latin, Department of English

February 22:
“What’s Your Story?”
Joel Janisewski, Called to Lead Program Associate

Spring

March 15:
“Your Etown Journey: Hogwarts or The Hunger Games?”
Stephanie Rankin, Assistant Dean of Students, Director of Academic Advising

April 5:
“Looking Inside Outsider Art”
Marianne Calenda, Dean of Students

April 26:
“I Must Resist: Bayard Rustin’s Life in Letters.”
Michael Long, Associate Professor of Religious Studies and Peace and Conflict Study

October 26:
“Campaign 2012: The Final Countdown.”
Fletcher McClellan, Dean of Faculty, Professor of Political Science, April Kelly-Woessner, Associate Professor of Political Science, Kyle Kopko, Assistant Professor of Political Science

November 9:
“Meet The President of The United States: A Biographical Sketch of Whoever Wins The Election and Will Be The Next President.”
Jean-Paul Benowitz, Assistant Director of Academic Advising, Director of Momentum

November 30:
“Drawing to See.”
Louise Schellenberg, Associate Professor of Art Emerita