Preface

This handbook has been developed as a resource for students and faculty involved with the Elizabethtown College Honors Program. The handbook incorporates principles from the National Collegiate Honors Council and suggestions offered by directors of established honors programs that operate in institutions comparable to Elizabethtown College.

If you have any questions at all about Honors Program requirements or policies, please contact either Dr. Oya Dursun-Ozkanca, Interim Director of the Honors Program, at dursuno@etown.edu, or Ms. Lori Corradino, Program Assistant for the Honors Program, at corradinol@etown.edu.

Advice to Elizabethtown College Honors Students

In the fall of 2002, I entered Elizabethtown College as a first-year Honors student, not knowing what may lie ahead. The Honors Program was entering its fourth year of existence, and like other students, I was excited and a little nervous for the start of my college career. Little did I know that my Elizabethtown College experience would be life-changing. I am thankful for the curricular and co-curricular opportunities that were afforded to me as a student many years ago, and the friendships that I developed during my time in the Honors Program. These experiences and relationships are an integral part of the person I am today. With that in mind, I want to share some advice for students enrolled in the Honors Program, particularly first-year students.

The most important thing that you should keep in mind throughout your college career is this: You’re here to receive an education, not just a degree. A degree is simply a credential, but an education will serve you in both your professional and personal life. The purpose of a liberal arts curriculum is to shape the whole person, thereby ensuring that you are well-equipped to think, analyze, and reason, to ensure that you can address all of life’s challenges for years and years to come. Of course, your education will be important in preparing you for a career in the not-too-distant future, but it’s so much more than just that. So, let me offer some additional pointers for your college career:

- As you plan your courses and co-curricular activities, ask yourself how this will prepare you for the challenges that lie ahead. Don’t just select a course to fulfill a requirement on a check sheet – be intentional in crafting your course of study and Elizabethtown College experience.
- Talk with people – lots of people – especially people who are different than you. Discussions with your peers, professors, guest speakers, and community members may not only result in an enlightening conversation, but it may very well forge personal bonds that will last well beyond your years at E-town. I know this from personal experience. And along with that, listen to others. Get to know their perspectives, even if you disagree with what they may say.
- Work hard and give it your all. If you fail or discover that you’re not good at something, that’s perfectly fine. In fact, that’s great. Learning about your strengths and weaknesses is one of the best lessons to learn while in college, and it will prepare you for what’s to come in life.
• If you say you’re going to do something, do it. Following through with promises, whether in a student club or an internship or a class project, will earn you a lot of respect and it’s rewarded in “the real world.” You’ll be surprised at how far you can go with follow-through.

• Treat others as you would like to be treated. Following the “Golden Rule” is sage advice. All of us are members of the E-town community, and that membership is permanent. From this day forward, even after graduation, we are all Blue Jays. Because our community is so small, what you say and do matters . . . a lot. We have this community because of the actions of previous generations of students. Strive to be stewards of our community for future generations; they’re counting on you.

I wish you the very best during your studies at Elizabethtown College. Enjoy every moment of the journey!

Dr. Kyle C. Kopko ’05, Honors Program Director, 2015-2018

Always have an open mind and aspire to broaden your horizons! Have empathy! Enjoy the close-knit community that the Honors Program offers! It is something to be cherished for a lifetime… And remember, we are here to make sure that you get the most out of your Honors Program experience!

Dr. Oya Dursun-Ozkanca, Honors Program Interim Director, 2020-2021

Program Mission

The mission of the Elizabethtown College Honors Program is to provide enhanced learning opportunities for students with excellent academic records, superior academic abilities, intellectual promise, and demonstrated initiative. Academic excellence has been identified as a core value of the college and is a hallmark of the Honors Program. Consistent with the mission of the college, the Honors Program promotes high standards of scholarship, leadership, and service among those students selected for the Program.

History of the Elizabethtown College Honors Program

In 1997, when sociologist Dr. Theodore Long was president of Elizabethtown College, contact was made with the National Collegiate Honors Council (NCHC) for guidance on establishing an Honors Program. In 1998 the Academic Council recommended developing an Honors Program to attract a higher quality student profile, improve college retention rates, contribute to a more dynamic curriculum and academic environment, and enhance faculty development and satisfaction. In October 1998 the proposal for a college-wide Honors Program was defined as one of the 22 primary objectives of the Strategic Plan approved by the Board of Trustees. To this end, two members of the Academic Council attended the NCHC’s 1998 annual meeting in Chicago for the purposes of developing the program. In 1999 the Faculty Assembly unanimously approved the Honors Program proposal and Dr. Ronald McAllister, Provost of Elizabethtown College, asked Dr. Conrad L. Kanagy to direct the newly named Hershey Foods Honors Program. The name reflected a major donation to the Honors Program’s endowment by the Hershey Foods Corporation. In the fall semester of 2000 the program enrolled its first class of forty-two Honors students. The Honors students were in the top 10 percent of their high school graduating class, and the cohort had an average SAT score of 1300. The program has continued to grow to an average annual size of 250 students and an average annual class size of 60-80 students. In 2005, the Hershey Foods Company changed its name, and subsequently the program was renamed the Elizabethtown College Honors Program. In 2005, Dr. Dana G. Mead was named Program Director. In 2015, Dr. Kyle C. Kopko was named Program Director. In 2018, Dr. Brian Newsome was named Dean for Curriculum and Honors. In 2020, Dr. Oya Dursun-Ozkanca was named Interim Director of the Honors Program.

Program Personnel

Interim Director of the Honors Program:

Dr. Oya Dursun-Ozkanca serves as the Interim Director of the Honors Program (referred to as the Director of the Honors Program in the remainder of this document). The Director of the Honors Program is responsible to the College’s Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs (SVPAA). The SVPAA oversees the development of the Program’s annual budget. The Director provides the SVPAA with annual reports of the Honors Program activities. This report is summarized and included by the SVPAA in a periodic report to the Board of Trustees. The Director is also a member of the SVPAA’s staff and meets with other members of the staff at the SVPAA’s request.

The Director advises students throughout their four years of Honors involvement to ensure that they are receiving the quality of educational experiences they anticipated when coming to Elizabethtown College. The Director works with students to develop a satisfactory four-year plan for completing Honors requirements, and also assists in preparing students for prestigious awards and scholarships (i.e., Fulbright, Rhodes, Marshall, etc.). Dr. Dursun-Ozkanca may be reached at dursuno@etown.edu.

Honors Committee:

The Honors Committee consists of faculty members and one student representative. They advise the Director of the Honors Program in overseeing the Honors Program, including the selection and ongoing evaluation of Honors Program participants, determining criteria for Honors credits and courses, selecting and evaluating Honors courses, and making policy decisions.

Honors Council:

The Honors Council acts as the student governance body for the Honors Program. The Honors Council Executive Board consists of the Executive Cabinet and representatives from all Honors cohorts. The Executive Cabinet helps to coordinate activities in the Living Learning Community, social events, and special guest speakers. It also works closely with the Director of the Honors Program to coordinate Honors Programing, including first-year orientation activities.

Spring 2021 Honors Council Executive Cabinet:

President: Natalie Blanton, blantonn@etown.edu
Vice President: Darci Ott, ottd@etown.edu
Secretary: Emma Mesko, meskoe@etown.edu
Treasurer: Madeline Kauffman, kauffmannm1@etown.edu

Program Assistant:

Lori Corradino serves as the Honors Program Assistant. She provides administrative support to the Director of the Honors Program, manages student records, assists students in processing forms, coordinates office activity, purchases office supplies, and supervises student assistants. The Program Assistant also manages correspondence with current and prospective students and coordinates special events sponsored by the Honors Program. Ms. Corradino may be reached at corradinol@etown.edu.

Student Assistants:

The Student Assistants help maintain the function of the Honors Center. They aid in the recruitment of the next class of Honors students. Student Assistants are good sources of information and should be knowledgeable about upcoming events and all aspects of an Honors education.

Benefits of Honors Program Membership

Academic Research Grants:

Honors students in good standing who have completed 16 credit hours of Honors curriculum requirements may apply for Academic Grants for up to $1,000 for the duration of their undergraduate career to cover expenses related to the student’s Honors education. There is a limited budget each year for these competitive grants. The Honors Committee evaluates Academic Grant Applications twice a year. Deadlines for application submission are November 15 and April 15. Please see Appendix F for the Academic Grants Application Form.

Eligibility:

- Expenses must be incurred during the student’s enrollment as an undergraduate student at the College.
- Student must be in good standing with the Honors Program: 3.50 minimum GPA and no judicial infractions.
- Student must have completed 16 Honors credits.

Typical Covered Expenses:

- Purchase of items directly related to the student’s senior thesis research not normally covered by departmental budgets
- Conference travel to present student research
- Travel expenses for study abroad (students should seek pre-approval of the eligibility of their study abroad related expenses with the Director of the Honors Program, and if pre-approved, they will be reimbursed upon their return from the study abroad program and submission of receipts)

- Exam fees for graduate school entrance or professional licensing exams: Actuarial Exam, GRE (general and advanced), GMAT, LSAT, MCAT, etc.
- Tuition for GRE, LSAT, MCAT preparation courses

Limitations:

- Students not applying for the entire $1,000 at one time may apply for the balance in a subsequent application.
- Students may apply for and receive multiple grants, the total not to exceed $1,000.
- Students may only use Academic Grant funds to pay for one exam administration of any given graduate entrance or professional licensing exam. Students taking multiple exams (LSAT and GMAT, for example) may submit an application for both exams.
- Grants to pay partial tuition for GRE, LSAT, MCAT preparation courses will be funded only if there is remaining grant money after all other grants are funded that year.
- Cost estimates may be used in an application for approval, but no funds will be disbursed without actual receipts submitted to the Honors Center.
- Academic Grant funds may not be used to cover the following items:
  - College tuition and fees
  - Travel not related to an undergraduate academic program or conference
  - Computer hardware
  - Computer software
  - Copying or binding of thesis

To access these funds, students must complete an Honors Academic Grant Request form and submit it with receipts from a credit card, etc. Students must also include a statement describing how the project supports collegiate/professional development. All requests will be reviewed and approved by the Director of the Honors Program.

Forms are available on the Honors Program website (www.etown.edu/honors) and in Appendix F. Please refer to the section on Academic Integrity for further eligibility criteria for Academic Research Grants.

Course Overload:

Honors students in good standing are allowed to overload their class schedule up to 20 credits for two semesters without paying the customary fee required by Elizabethtown College. To overload for a given semester, students must complete an overload petition available from the Office of Registration and Records. It must also be signed by the Director of the Honors Program. Please refer to the section on Academic Integrity for further eligibility criteria for Course Overload.

Honors Facilities:

In 2019, the Elizabethtown College Honors Program moved from the lower level of Wenger Center to Myer Hall. The new facility includes a classroom, student lounge, study rooms, and staff offices.
The Honors Center is typically open 24 hours a day, seven days per week during the fall and spring semesters. Due to COVID-imposed safety protocol, in Spring 2021, it is operational from 6 am to 11 pm. All Honors students have access to the Honors Center with the use of their campus ID card.

Honors Living Learning Community in Schlosser Residence Hall and Founders Hall Tower A 1st Floor

All Honors students are invited to take part in the Honors Living Learning Community (LLC) in the Schlosser Residence Hall and Founders Hall Tower A 1st Floor. The LLC provides Honors students an opportunity to build a vibrant residential community. The Honors Program, RAs, and Honors Council Executive Cabinet also plan several social and educational events for LLC members throughout the semester.

Recognition and Graduation with Honors:

Honors Program participants are recognized in special ways during the school year. Often Honors students have opportunities to attend special functions on campus not open to other students. To be recognized as Honors scholars at graduation, students are required to successfully complete 24 credits of Honors courses (including an Honors thesis) and to maintain a minimum 3.50 cumulative grade point average. Additionally, Honors courses are designated as such on the graduate’s transcript, and the transcript notes that the student is an Elizabethtown College Honors graduate.

Other Opportunities on Campus

Honors students are strongly encouraged to consider involvement with other offices and organizations on campus, including the Office of Prestigious Scholarship and Fellowships, Student Senate, the Called to Lead Program, and more. Students should feel free to meet with the Director of the Honors Program and discuss how they might benefit from other programs and co-curricular opportunities on campus.

Prestigious Scholarships and Fellowships: Do Something Amazing!

With our strong liberal arts Core curriculum and Signature Learning Experiences, Elizabethtown students are excellent candidates for prestigious scholarships and fellowships. Over the years, Elizabethtown students have earned Rhodes, Fulbright, Davies-Jackson, and Goldwater Scholarships.

Prestigious scholarships and fellowships can provide funding for a wide range of activities:

- Full tuition, fees, and a living stipend to earn a graduate degree abroad.
- Undergraduate or graduate study in the US.
- Conducting a research project abroad.
- Teaching English abroad.
- Internships abroad.
- Social engagement projects in the US or abroad.
Applying for prestigious national and international scholarships and fellowships can empower one’s dreams, providing resources to enhance scholarship, inform worldview, and sharpen leadership skills.

The Office of Prestigious Scholarships and Fellowships, located in the Honors Center, helps students discern the most appropriate awards for which to apply and mentors students as they develop their applications.

Crafting a competitive application takes a significant amount of time, so starting early is important. For more information, please contact Prof. Jean-Paul Benowitz, Director of Prestigious Scholarships and Fellowships (benowitzjp@etown.edu).

Here are a few examples of Prestigious Scholarships and Fellowships:

Honors Program Admission

Admission for Incoming Students

Incoming students who express an interest in joining the Elizabethtown College Honors Program may apply to the Program at the time of their application to the college. Generally, to be admitted to the Honors Program students must:

- Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Honors Program has a test-optional policy until further notice.
- Attain a minimum of 3.7 unweighted GPA on a 4.0 scale (Evidence of AP and Honors courses preferred).
- Honors interview required (virtual or in-person) completed preferably by January 15, with a final deadline of March 15.

Students that do not fulfill the GPA criteria are welcome to appeal and should submit an essay that the Director of the Honors Program will consider.

Essay Topic:

Elizabethtown College is strongly committed to peace and justice, and its mission is grounded in international and cross-cultural perspectives, hands-on/experiential learning, and purposeful life work. In 300-500 words, please share an example from your own experience where you put all or some of these elements into action and how it influenced your perspective on the world.

For more information about the admissions process, please contact Senior Director of Admissions Adam Smith at smithadam1@etown.edu.

Admission for Transfer Students

Transfer students may apply for admission to the Honors Program. An applicant with no prior honors experience at the previous institution must:

- Complete an admissions interview.
- Attain a minimum of 3.5 GPA on a 4.0 scale for college-level work.
- If an applicant does not meet the GPA requirements, then that individual may submit an essay that the Director of the Honors Program will consider.

In 300-500 words, please share an example from your own experience where you put all or some of these elements into action and how it influenced your perspective on the world.

The Elizabethtown Honors Program also accepts transfer students who were members of honors programs at their previous institutions and whose cumulative GPA matches or exceeds the Elizabethtown Honors Program minimum cut-off for the number of credits earned. The Elizabethtown Honors Program will accept honors credits from the transferring institution with a grade of B or higher and apply these credits to Honors requirements at Elizabethtown College.

For more information about the admissions process, please contact Senior Director of Admissions Adam Smith at smithadam1@etown.edu.

Admission for Current Elizabethtown College Students

First-year students at Elizabethtown College who are not members of the Honors Program may apply for admission to the program after receiving their first-semester grades. To be admitted to the Honors Program as a first- or second-year student, one must:

- Attain a 3.5 GPA or higher.
- Submit a letter of recommendation from the FYS instructor or another professor.
- Submit a personal statement outlining the reasons for wishing to join the Honors Program.
- Successfully complete an interview with the Director of the Honors Program.

Students who enter the Honors Program during the second semester of the first year or first semester of the sophomore year will also be required to take a minimum of 24 credits in Honors courses. They do not have to repeat the First Year Seminar, but they will have to substitute another Honors course for the First Year Seminar.

Program Requirements

Honors students complete 24 Honors credits (typically six 4-credit courses) over four years, including First-Year Seminar and Senior Thesis in their major and/or minor. Please refer to the Honors Curriculum Overview section of this Handbook below.

GPA Requirements

The minimum grade point average required to remain in the Elizabethtown College Honors Program is as follows:

- End of first year (30-59 credits): 3.00
- End of sophomore year (60-89 credits): 3.25
- End of junior year (90+ credits): 3.45
End of senior year (upon graduation credits): 3.50

To be recognized as an Honors Program graduate, all students must achieve an overall 3.50 cumulative grade point average by graduation. The Honors Program Committee and the Director of the Honors Program will monitor student performance. Students who fall below the appropriate minimum threshold will be released from the program. Advisors will assist such students to mitigate any difficulties created by the transition. Any student withdrawn from the Honors Program for inadequate GPA and desiring to reenter the program must petition the Honors Committee for readmission to the Honors Program once the required GPA for the student’s current class status has been attained. Rising seniors, however, may petition the committee immediately so that they may start their senior theses. A rising senior petitioning for readmission should provide the committee with a plan indicating how the student will reach the required 3.50 GPA by the end of the senior year.

Academic Integrity

Elizabethtown College assumes that students will act honorably. Students are expected to adhere to the Pledge of Integrity adopted by both the students and the faculty in 1995 and revised in 2014:

“I pledge to respect all members of the Elizabethtown College community, and to act as a responsible member of the College community. I pledge to respect the free exchange of ideas both inside and outside the classroom. I pledge to represent as my work only that which is indeed my own, refraining from all forms of lying, plagiarizing, cheating, and academic dishonesty.”

As members of the Elizabethtown College community, we hold each other responsible in the maintaining of these values.

Reflecting commitment to the pledge, new students are expected to sign a pledge stating, “I pledge to be honest and to uphold integrity.” For more information about the Elizabethtown College Standards of Academic Integrity, please visit: https://catalog.etown.edu/content.php?catoid=24&navoid=1233&hl=integrity&returnto=search.

The Honors Committee adopted the following guideline, effective in Spring 2021:

In case of a first instance of citation for academic integrity violation received from the Academic Standing Committee, the student will be ineligible to apply for the Honors Program Academic Grants and to overload for free. In case of a second citation for academic integrity violation, the student will be dismissed from the Honors Program.

Honors Curriculum Overview

The Elizabethtown College Honors Program curriculum is modeled in large part on our current Core curriculum to ensure that the program poses no complication to the timely completion of graduation requirements. Several features make the Honors experience unique.
All students entering the Honors Program will complete a minimum of 24 credit hours to fulfill the requirements and graduate as recognized Honors students. However, students are encouraged to take more than 24 credits in Honors if their schedules allow. There is no limit to the number of Honors courses per semester that students may take, or to the number they may take during their college career. Courses designated as Honors courses may carry between one and four credits. The following section is divided into two sub-sections: the first one outlines the curricular requirements for Honors students that matriculated prior to Fall 2019, and the second one outlines the curricular requirements for Honors students that matriculated in Fall 2019 or after.

Honors courses are typically comprised only of Honors students. Expectations for engagement and scholarship will be higher than for traditional Elizabethtown College courses. Courses are limited in size to facilitate greater interaction with faculty members. All students who successfully complete an Honors course will receive an “Honors” designation on their transcripts, regardless of whether they are or remain an Honors student.

Honors Curriculum Overview for Students that Entered the Program Prior to Fall 2019

Students that matriculated prior to Fall 2019 are required to complete at least one interdisciplinary Honors seminar and to complete an Honors thesis within their major or minor field of study.

Recommended Sequence of Honors Courses

On the Honors Program website, there is an Honors Program Curriculum Requirements check sheet to help students keep track of all Honors courses they have taken. The student’s advisor will also have a copy of this checklist. In addition, official records of completed requirements are retained in the Honors Center.

First Year (8 credits):
- First-year Honors Seminar
- One additional Honors course

Students entering the Honors Program in their first year will take an Honors First-Year Seminar in the fall semester and an interdisciplinary seminar in the spring semester. First-year students may take additional Honors courses in the first or second semesters. One of these courses may be a regular course contracted for Honors level.

Second Year (8 credits):
- Two Honors courses (may include an interdisciplinary seminar)

Students may elect to enroll in Honors courses that meet Core AU requirements, major or minor requirements, or electives. Students may also pursue an off-campus Honors experience, such as a semester abroad or a semester participating in an honors program at another honors institution. All proposals for alternative Honors coursework must be approved by the Director of the Honors Program.
Students must complete twelve Honors credits by the end of their sophomore year. If they do not, they must submit a written plan to the Director of the Honors Program by the start of their junior year (first week of classes) detailing how they will complete the Honors Program course requirements. If students do not submit such a plan, they may be removed from the Honors Program.

Third Year (4 credits):
- One Honors course

Students must complete sixteen Honors credits by the end of their junior year. If they do not, they must submit a written plan to the Director of the Honors Program by the start of their senior year (first week of classes) detailing how they will complete the Honors Program course requirements. If students do not submit such a plan, they may be removed from the Honors Program.

Fourth Year (4 credits):
- Senior Thesis

Honors Curriculum Overview for Students that Entered the Program Fall 2019 or Later

Effective in Fall 2019, for all incoming Honors students, the Honors Program requirements are organized into three “nests” (formerly referred to as the “bucket system”).

- Nest 1: up to 16 credits
  - Honors FYS
  - Honors EN 100/150
  - One Honors contract course
  - Honors stacked courses
  - Study abroad reflection/presentation waiver (from six weeks to a full year)
  - “Extra” Senior Thesis credit

- Nest 2: at least 4 credits
  - “Regular” Honors course(s) other than FYS and EN 100/150

- Nest 3: at least 4 credits
  - Senior Thesis within the major or minor field of study (any “extra” senior thesis credits count towards Nest 1)

Effective in Fall 2019 for all Honors students:
- There is no GPA minimum for contract courses.

1 Students in a major, double major, or combination of major or minor that requires 70 or more credits are eligible to petition for a second Honors contract course and count it towards Nest 1.
2 Students pursuing double majors often complete senior theses in both disciplines and earn 8 credits of senior thesis credit rather than 4.
There is no interdisciplinary course requirement.
Appeals for curricular exceptions may be directed to the Director of the Honors Program.

Recommended Sequence of Honors Courses

On the Honors Program website, there is an Honors Program Curriculum Requirements check sheet to help students keep track of all Honors courses they have taken. The student’s advisor will also have a copy of this checklist. In addition, official records of completed requirements are retained in the Honors Center.

First Year (8 credits):
- First-year Honors Seminar
- Honors EN 100/150 or one other Honors course if the student brings Advanced Placement or previous college credit for the Power of Language English Core requirement (which EN 100/150 fulfill)

Second Year (8 credits):
- Two Honors courses

Students may elect to enroll in Honors courses that meet Core AU requirements, major or minor requirements, or electives. Students may also pursue an off-campus Honors experience such as a semester abroad. All proposals for alternative Honors coursework must be approved by the Director of the Honors Program. Students must complete at least 12 Honors credits by the end of their sophomore year. If they do not, they must submit a written plan to the Director of the Honors Program by the start of their junior year (first week of classes) detailing how they will complete the Honors Program course requirements. If students do not submit such a plan, they may be removed from the Honors Program.

Third Year (4 credits):
- One Honors course

Students must complete at least 16 Honors credits by the end of their junior year. If they do not, they must submit a written plan to the Director of the Honors Program by the start of their senior year (first week of classes) detailing how they will complete the Honors Program course requirements. If students do not submit such a plan, they may be removed from the Honors Program.

Fourth Year (4 credits):
- Senior Thesis

Honors Students in Articulation Agreement Programs

Students and 3:2, 3:3, and 3:4 Programs: All students are required to take 24 credits of Honors courses, including those in 3:2, 3:3, and 3:4 programs. However, students participating in these programs have the option of waiving up to two Honors course requirements (excluding the thesis requirement) upon successful completion of their first year in graduate school. Students who waive two Honors course requirements through this special arrangement are not eligible to use a contract course or a study abroad experience to fulfill the requirements of the Honors Program. For more information, please contact the Director of the Honors Program.

Additional Course Options for Honors Students: Contract Courses, Stacked Courses, Study Abroad, and Special Study Options

Students may apply contract courses, stacked courses, and study abroad semesters (six-week minimum), or a combination thereof toward Nest 1. As noted in the previous section, students in designated academic programs may waive up to two of their Honors course requirements (excluding the senior thesis requirement), but if a student waives two Honors courses, they cannot count Honors contracts or study abroad experiences toward the 24 credits needed to graduate from the Honors Program.

Contracting Courses

Honors students may enroll in a non-Honors course and contract with the professor to convert it to Honors level and to earn Honors credit to fulfill Honors elective requirements. In order for the contract course to merit Honors credit, the student must complete Honors-level work in addition to that already required by the non-Honors class. The character and quality of the regular work should also reflect greater expectations of learning and intellectual rigor. Simply adding more written work or more reading is insufficient for Honors credit. To compensate for the loss of high-level student discussion in small seminars of only Honors students in a traditional Honors class, the nature of contracted Honors work includes frequent and regular meetings and close work with the professor.

Required Substantive Elements of the Contract:

- Critical thinking
- Use of primary and/or secondary sources for the field of study
- Use of multiple pedagogies and enrichment opportunities such as field trips, lab experiences, films, lectures, guest speakers, experiential-learning, cooperative-learning, and service-learning experiences
- Clear specification of how the additional work will be graded and incorporated into the syllabus requirements
- Regular and frequent meetings with the professor in addition to regularly scheduled class meetings

Desirable Substantive Elements of the Contract:
• Use of a variety of evaluation methods and products: written assignments, exams, oral presentations, and experiential components
• An interdisciplinary perspective
• A comparative perspective
• Inclusion of issues of diversity and differences in values

Procedural Requirements:

• Honors students may contract only one regular course for Honors credit, unless they are in a major, double major, or combination of major or minor that requires 70 or more credits. Students in a major, double major, or combination of major or minor that requires 70 or more credits are eligible to petition for a second Honors contract.
• Contracting courses requires the permission of the course instructor and the Director of the Honors Program.
• Students may not ordinarily contract 100-level courses.
• Contracts will not be awarded retroactively. Completed Honors Contract Course Starting Spring 2021, only electronic applications are accepted. Applications are due to be submitted electronically to honors@etown.edu by the opening day of classes for the semester. Earlier submission is strongly encouraged. Contracts must be completed, signed, and approved by the add deadline for classes each semester. Upon approval, a copy of the contract will be issued to the professor and the student.
• Once approved, the course will be designated as Honors on the student's transcript by the Add deadline (5th day of classes).
• Students may void the contract Honors designation/drop the contract for the course (and remain in the regular course) only up until the 4th week of the semester without it appearing on the transcript. To do so students must complete an Honors Program Contract Revocation Form, available in the Honors Center. After the 4th week, the student must drop the entire class to avoid the contract, and it will appear on the transcript as W. Students failing to complete contracted work will be graded accordingly.
• Additional credit may only be added to courses originally awarding three or fewer credits. One credit = 15 hours class time plus outside work. Applications must specify how the extra hours/credit will be earned.
• Once the contract has been fulfilled and both the student and the professor have evaluated the experience, the Honors Center staff will send a copy of the contract to the Office of Registration and Records and request that the student’s transcript be amended to note the Honors credit.
• Contract courses must be letter graded.

The contract application form is available from the Honors website, and a copy is included in Appendix A of this handbook.

Stacked Courses

Stacked courses are similar to contract courses, in the sense that students will engage in Honors-level activities to elevate a non-Honors course to Honors status. However, unlike a contract course in which a student initiates the proposal, the design for a stacked course is determined by the professor in advance. These courses are approved by both the Honors Committee and the Director of the Honors Program. Students wishing to take part in a stacked course must sign a stacked course contract and adhere to all the requirements and deadlines contained in the contract. The stacked courses that are offered each semester will vary, and any member of the Honors Program may enroll in a stacked course on a space-available basis (registrations are taken first-come, first-served). Please complete, sign, and return the appropriate application to honors@etown.edu before the first day of classes for the semester. For the list of stacked courses available for the upcoming semester and links to approved stacked course applications, visit the Honors Program webpage here.

Study Abroad for Honors Credit

Students who study abroad for at least six weeks up to a semester may petition to waive a 4-credit Honors course requirement (except the senior thesis requirement), provided they fulfill the requirements listed in Appendix F. Students who study abroad for two full semesters may petition to waive 8 credits of Honors requirements (except the senior thesis requirement), provided they fulfill the requirements listed in Appendix F.

Senior Thesis

To graduate from the Elizabethtown College Honors Program, each student must complete a senior thesis for a minimum of four credits. The thesis is designed to provide a challenging and rewarding educational experience. If a student is invited by their major department to complete an Honors in the Discipline thesis project (HID), they may count it for the Honors Program requirement. In this situation, students are required to meet all deadlines required by their department and the Honors Program. Please see Appendix B for detailed instructions on completing your thesis project.

Honors Thesis Projects may be (1) traditional primary research in the lab (usually natural and social sciences); (2) major creative or translation projects (usually Fine and Performing Arts, English, or Modern Languages); or (3) synthesizing research or applying theory to analyze texts, data, or other phenomena to develop one’s own conclusions (often Humanities and Social Sciences). Students may not use collaborative team projects to fulfill this Honors requirement.

Honors Program Students may fulfill their 4-credit thesis requirement a number of ways. Each of these requires prior Honors Program Director approval before enrolling in the thesis credits to ensure your credits are transcripted appropriately as Honors credits. This process cannot be done retroactively because that would invalidate any previously issued official transcripts such as those you send in graduate school, professional school, grant, scholarship, or other applications.

Honors 301 Thesis Preparation (1 thesis credit, P/NP) is offered every spring and may be taken in the junior year. For most students this course is optional, but is highly recommended for those who struggle with writing, those intimidated by planning and completing a year-long major project, or those who know (or suspect) they do not meet qualifications to be invited to Honors in the Discipline in their major department.

Honors in the Discipline (HID) of the major department is the simplest and most common vehicle to fulfill the Honors Program requirement. Typically, most departments process invitations to eligible students to participate Honors in the Discipline in the spring semester of students’ junior year. Departmental qualifying requirements vary, so students should investigate the specifics of their department guidelines in fall semester of junior year in order to plan accordingly. For example, some departments’ GPA cut off is 3.50; others require 3.60 in both cumulative and major GPAs. If students know or suspect they are not eligible for HID participation, then they should consider enrolling in HON 301 in spring of their junior year.

Departmental Thesis Courses:

- Art 400
- Anthropology 400
- Biology 491-492
- Business 400
- Chemistry 491-492
- Communications 400-401
- Economics 400
- Education 399-400 Education majors must file an Honors thesis contract when enrolling in ED 399 in December of the junior year when they have been approved to participate in HID. These students will file their proposal as an addendum to this contract in May.
- EN 498-499
- Engineering 401-402
- Music 490
- History 400
- Interfaith Leadership Studies 490-491
- Mathematics 400
- Modern Languages (French, German, Japanese, Spanish) 496-497
- Occupational Therapy 492-494
- Physics 491-492
- Philosophy 490
- Political Science 490
- Psychology 485
- Religious Studies 490-491
- Sociology 400
- Social Work SW 400
- Theatre 490

Independent Study is the primary method for students who may not meet the minimum qualifying standards to be invited to participate in HID (usually minimum 3.60 GPA, but sometimes higher) but who still have the required 3.50 Honors Program GPA. It is highly recommended students take Honors 301 to develop the Independent Study proposal. Sometimes students who do not wish to participate in HID in their department, but who would like to do thesis work in their minor department, opt for Independent Study. In either case, students who suspect they may not be invited to their department’s HID process or those who know they want to work with their minor department should consider enrolling in Honors 301 Thesis Preparation (1 credit, P/NP), which is only offered in the spring of the junior year. The remaining 3 credits would form the independent study project. Students enrolled in HON 301 complete a proposal as part of the class to submit by the May 1 deadline.

Departmental Thesis courses not taken for HID is an occasional option. Some departments do not wish to overload faculty schedules with Independent Study supervision. These departments have Honors Program students run through their research or thesis course while making clear the student will not be eligible for HID.

May 1 of the junior year (after students have accepted their departmental invitations to participate in HID) is the deadline for students to file a signed thesis contract and the proposal with the Honors Program and to enroll in departmental thesis coursework in the senior year.

Below is a detailed suggested timeline for completing senior thesis requirements.

Junior Year, Spring Semester Responsibilities for the Senior Thesis:

In the spring semester of the junior year, departments issue invitations to eligible candidates to participate in Honors in the Discipline. Most departments also require a research proposal that the department must approve before students can proceed with the project and/or enroll in the departmental thesis course. Typically, departments will want to know some of the following information:

- Who will advise or direct the thesis/research?
- Which other committee members will supervise the thesis?
- What preliminary research have students already done on this topic?
- Working title of the project.
- The topic, research questions, method, and related information.
- Working bibliography/references/works cited.

In addition to HID proposals and deadlines, students must complete an Honors Program Senior Thesis Contract and Proposal Form. This completed and signed form is due to the Director of the Honors Program no later than May 1 of a student’s junior year or two semesters before planning to graduate. Students must complete the Elizabethtown College Senior Thesis Contract and Proposal Form prior to registration for any course that is counting for the thesis.

If a student’s department does not have a course in which to enroll for thesis credit, then the student must work with a professor in the major or minor department and complete an Independent Study (IS) for thesis credit. The student will also have to submit a separate Independent Study form to the Independent Study Committee. Though the Independent Study Committee’s deadline is the first day of the semester in which the Independent Study is to be taken, the Honors Program Thesis Contract and Proposal Form must be completed by the May 1 Honors Program Deadline (during the semester prior to the one in which this Independent Study is to be taken).

If a department’s HID proposal deadline falls after May 1 of the Junior Year, in order to count the thesis for the Honors Program requirement, the student must still complete the Honors Program Contract and Proposal form by the May 1 deadline. Please see Appendix B for Senior Thesis Contract form.

Senior Year Responsibilities for the Senior Thesis:

After a student has received all the relevant approvals during the summer between the junior and senior years, the student should be conducting research. The senior thesis should be written during one or both semesters of the senior year.

During the semester in which the thesis is completed, the student is required to present it in a public forum. This presentation requirement may be met in one of a number of ways:

- Departmental defense or presentation
- Departmental undergraduate conference
- Professional conference
- Scholarship and Creative Arts Day

Thesis Contracts stipulate the agreed upon details of a student’s coursework to fulfill the thesis requirement. In all cases contracts must be signed prior to submission. Contracts with incorrect information may invalidate the student's Honors credits. All contracts must be filed prior to enrolling in the thesis credits to ensure proper Honors designation on the transcript and credit for completion of requirements.

Thesis Proposals outline research questions to be considered, the methodology to be employed, a brief literature review, etc. They run anywhere from 2-3 pages or longer depending on level of detail required by the discipline. Some departments have later proposal deadlines, so students in such departments may submit the contract and a provisional (1-page) proposal to the Honors Program in May and the final proposal (to both department and the Honors Program) by their department deadline.

Students completing senior thesis credits through Independent Study must also submit a separate Independent Study form to the Independent Study Committee. Though the Independent Study Committee's deadline is the first day of the semester in which the Independent Study is to be taken, the Honors Program Thesis Contract and Proposal Form must be completed by the May 1 Honors Program deadline (during the semester prior to the one in which this Independent Study is to be taken). Students who would like to register for Independent Study should work with Faculty to shepherd a proposal through the Independent Study Committee before the May 1 Honors Program deadline.

For most projects, including laboratory, field, historical document, textual, theoretical, or statistical research projects, the proposals include:

- A brief background of the issue/texts/theory you are planning to examine/analyze/apply, etc., including the fundamentals of the scholarly debate about it
- A clear statement of the purpose, objective or goals of your thesis project
- Research questions and/or hypotheses
- A statement of rationale for your conducting this work
• The proposed design, plan, or methodology of your project: if appropriate, how will you analyze your data and present the results?
• Intended outcome(s) of your research: what results do you anticipate?

For creative projects, performances, and translations, the proposal should address the following:
• A narrow theme or topic and approach to the theme (fiction, sculpture, music composition, etc.)
• A background statement of your experience with and qualifications in your chosen medium/genre/language
• A statement of how you plan to include a component of research or meta-analysis to supplement the creative element
• A description of the proposed design, plan or methodology of your work
• A description of the final form of the project

Proposals for all types of projects should also contain the following information:
• Working bibliography
• What contributions, conclusions, or applications do you anticipate as a result of your thesis?
• What plans for dissemination, beyond a library copy of the thesis, do you have publications, exhibits, conference presentations, performances, etc.?
• Timetable for completion of the research, writing, and presentation of the thesis.
• A rationale for your selection of thesis committee members. You may have more than two members on your committee, but you may have no fewer than two. You should first look to qualified secondary advisors in your department or a relevant department if you are doing an interdisciplinary project. All committee members should be full-time faculty members of the College.

Human subjects research: Make sure to plan for fulfilling the Institutional Review Board requirements, including the timeline of IRB mandatory training, submission and approvals.

GPA requirements: A student needs a 3.5 to graduate from the Honors Program and must have at least a 3.45 to begin the senior thesis project. A student who has a GPA below 3.45 and who believes that the requisite 3.5 GPA can be met by graduation should make an appointment with the Honors Program Director.

Thesis submission: After completing the thesis, the student must submit an electronic PDF to the Honors Program (honors@etown.edu) no later than May 1. If the completed thesis arrives after this date, it will not be considered for the Senior Honors Thesis Award. If the student’s department has a later deadline, then the student may submit a draft by May 1 for the award consideration and follow up with the final edition after the department deadline. The Honors Program is no longer requiring bound hard copies of the Honors thesis. Henceforth, all Honors theses will be uploaded to JayScholar. Students should insert a signed title page and the completed JayScholar form as the first two pages of the thesis. Both documents are available in Appendix C and Appendix D of this Handbook.

Instructions: Please answer the following questions. If necessary, additional sheets may be attached. Also attach a syllabus for the original course to this completed form. The student and the professor should agree on the answers to these questions before signing and submitting the contract application. It is the student’s responsibility to ensure the professor has time to complete the form and return it to the student in time for it to be submitted by the deadline.

1. Please list below the additional work required of the student that is a derivation of what others do in the class. Since the entire course will be transcripted as an Honors course from the time it is approved, it is assumed all components will be evaluated at Honors level. How will additional work requirements change how the grade is calculated from what is specified the syllabus? Examples below are illustrative, not exhaustive. They reflect an array of things people have done in the past. It is assumed the contract will engage a variety of assignments and activities.

I have agreed to the above terms and have accepted the program of study detailed in the attachments. I understand that to drop this contract without dropping the class, the student must go through the formal Honors contract drop process before the end of the fourth week of the semester. After that date the course will be graded based on the contracted work, regardless of whether or not the student completes it.

Appendix F: Academic Grant Application Form

Elizabethtown College Honors students who have completed sixteen credit hours of Honors courses and who have maintained a cumulative GPA of 3.5 or higher may apply for funds up to a cumulative total of $1,000 to support undergraduate Honors research and scholarship activities. These grants are competitive in nature, meaning that approval of requests is not guaranteed and will be considered within the larger context of other student requests and the total number of dollars allocated for any given year.

The Director will review all requests on a first-come, first-serve basis. Please submit hard copies of completed forms and attached receipts to the Honors Center by November 15 or April 15. Email applications will be accepted for students who are abroad. No funds will be disbursed without receipts and a detailed budget summary. Applicants should not combine unrelated requests into a single application form (e.g. study abroad travel and research supplies).

Appendix G: Study Abroad Credit Procedures

Honors Study Abroad Presentation and Reflective Paper Guidelines

Honors students will create a formal presentation on their study abroad experience that moves fully around David Kolb’s Experiential Learning Cycle. The presentation will be open to all students in the Honors Program and scheduled in cooperation with the Director of the Honors Program. The presentation should be ten-to-fifteen minutes in length and employ the use of visual aids or other appropriate media for audience members. Students must also submit a written report of approximately five-to-seven pages in length that discusses their study abroad experience in relation to the Kolb cycle. All papers must use 12-point Times New Roman font, margins no larger than 1.25 inches, and employ the use of an appropriate citation method (e.g., APA, Chicago, MLA, etc.). Citations do not count toward the suggested page length.

Kolb’s Cycle of Experiential Learning

About one quarter of the paper/presentation on Concrete Experience: Present a factual and concrete description of the situation. Be very concise like a news reporter—who, what, when, where, how, why. Who went? Where? What happened while you were there, both inside and outside the classroom? Describe the country, the city, the locals, etc. What classes did you take? What were classes, professors, and students like? How and what did you eat? What did you see and do when you were not in class?

About one quarter of the paper/presentation on Reflective Observation: Take a step back, reflect and make some observations about your time abroad. What did you think of the country, the people, the school, the classes, the other students, the politics, the infrastructure, the culture, the art, the music, etc.? What happened to you as a result of being there? What happened to others because you were there? What will really linger with you about this study abroad ten years from now? What still concerns you about this study abroad time? How does your study abroad relate to your past experiences? How does your study abroad relate to who you are now on campus? How has your study abroad influenced your plans for the future?

About one quarter of the paper/presentation on Abstract Conceptualization: Connect some theories, models, categories, concepts, theories, or ideas from any of your academic coursework or textbooks (from E-town or while abroad) to several aspects of your study abroad experience. Choose several things about yourself, the country, the politics, the education, the people, a new sense of purposeful life work, or something else you experienced during your study abroad time. Try to think about them in the way someone writing a textbook for your classes would study, categorize, theorize, or apply models to explain things. What additional resources do you need to consult to make sense of your study abroad experience, including doing additional scholarly research, spending time with a mentor, finding a graduate school, locating a specific organization you might like to work for, etc.?

About one quarter of the paper/presentation on Active Experimentation: What new skills, preferences, insights, knowledge, or dispositions have you gained from your study abroad experience? What might you change in your current or future life goals because of experiences while studying abroad? What options do you see for leading, serving, working, and living in new ways?

Other Things to Consider:

During the presentation, you are encouraged to offer advice and recommendations for other students who might consider a similar study abroad experience in the future. A question and answer session will follow the presentation and student presenters must address those questions in an informed manner.

Submission of Materials:

The reflection paper and presentation will be due by the eighth week of the semester following the study abroad experience. Copies of presentation materials and the reflection paper must be submitted via email to dursuno@etown.edu two days prior to the student presentation. An Honors course requirement will be waived upon successful completion of all the above requirements.

Please contact the Interim Director of the Honors Program, Dr. Oya Dursun-Ozkanca (dursuno@etown.edu), with any questions you may have about this assignment.
