Elizabethtown College

Momentum Glossary

Momentum • mō-'men-təm

Momentum is an interdisciplinary approach to introducing students to the Liberal Arts and helping them prepare for the academic expectations of college. The program is called Momentum because the purpose is to help students build momentum toward their transformative experience at Elizabethtown College. The program establishes a momentum students will maintain throughout their development in college. Momentum is designed to prepare students for college, assisting them in an effort to get the most from their liberal education, and become an integral part of the community. The Momentum program is a stimulus for students to become energized about Elizabethtown College and help them maintain this energy, motion, activity as they grow as student leaders.

Kinesis • kə-'nē-səs

Kinesis – the energy behind a momentum. Momentum continues for the student throughout their college experience providing supplemental advising, in collaboration with the student’s primary faculty advisor and upper class student peer academic advisors, called Kinesis, helping students discover key resources and strategies necessary for college success. Through the Momentum mentee to Kinesis Peer Academic Advisor relationship, Momentum students are empowered to develop as leaders with the ability to act as change agents on our campus, in the local community, nationally, and the world.

Momentum Society • mō-'men-təm sə-'sī-ə-tē

The mission of the Momentum Society is to educate Momentum students to think critically, act responsibly, lead effectively, and live humanely. The Momentum Society builds on the academic advising components of the Momentum program providing Momentum students with mentoring and experiential learning opportunities helping them explore their vocational identity and purpose. We aim to develop the habits of mind, core competencies and skills, and soundness of character equipping Momentum students to succeed in a variety of careers or graduate programs. Consistent with the college’s motto: “Educate for Service” the Momentum Society develops student leaders enabling them to reflect on how their gifts, passions, and education intersect with the needs of society and the world at large. The Momentum Society’s goal is to create a supportive community among all four cohorts of students of the Momentum program beyond the ten-day pre-orientation symposium and the first year peer academic advising relationships.

Momentum Society Style Meals: Paradise Four • mō-'men-təm sə-'sī-ə-tē stī(-ə) mēl'per-ə-, dīs 'fōr

The Momentum Society is a student club creating a sense of community among all four cohorts of Momentum students and alumni. In the 19th century, at Princeton University, students established eating clubs where they gathered to take meals at a common table. Princeton eating clubs provide a venue for students to dine, study, and socialize together. Momentum Society Style meals refers to the Momentum students sharing a meal, relaxing, socializing, and building a sense of community just like Princeton eating clubs. It is called Paradise Four because there are two novels based on Princeton's Eating Clubs: F. Scott Fitzgerald, This Side of Paradise (1920) and Ian Caldwell and Dustin Thomason, The Rule of Four (2004).

Perceptorials • Pre'cep-to'ri·als

Perceptorials - A class involving learning and discussion in small groups. In 1890, Woodrow Wilson (28th President of the U. S.) began teaching History, Jurisprudence, and Political Economy at Princeton University before being appointed its president. He created small discussion groups called preceptorials where students had the freedom to openly discuss everything they were learning and a venue for socializing, recreating, and relaxing. Kinesis will lead Momentum students in preceptorials to relax, reflect, and respond.

Imagine, Inspire, Impact • i-'ma-jən, in-'spī(-ə)r, 'im- ,pakt,

We believe a liberal education is, at its core, transformational; our faculty and staff intentionally develop curricular and extra-curricular experiences liberating the mind (the informed piece) IMAGINE, cultivate in students a sense of personal and social responsibility (the responsibility component) INSPIRE, and empower students to be change agents (the self-directed piece) IMPACT. The educational philosophy of the Momentum program is grounded in an understanding of how we must educate students broadly and deeply, assisting them in drawing connections between various experiences, so they can achieve academic excellence and develop as leaders to create a campus culture of inclusive excellence.
